COMMITTEES OF THE FACULTY AND THE UNIVERSITY

5.1 COMMITTEES OF THE FACULTY-ELECTED

Any faculty member appearing before any committee at the University, which will make a decision or recommendation concerning that faculty member, has the right to an impartial consideration when a decision or recommendation must be rendered. Faculty members have the right to challenge the participation of a committee member based on a showing of a conflict of interest that may affect the impartiality of that committee member. Such challenges should be made before the committee in question. The challenged committee member shall not participate in the vote. That committee must decide by a simple majority vote of the non-challenged members the validity of the challenge before consideration is given to the issue before the committee. If the entire committee is challenged, the committee shall decide the validity of the challenge by majority vote.

No tenured faculty member who is an applicant for promotion will be allowed to serve on any of the three promotion and tenure committees. If an individual has already been elected to one of these committees prior to his/her decision to apply for promotion, a replacement (only for that year) will be elected by the same faculty body that elected the original member.

A faculty member applying for promotion may not serve on any application of a "related person" as defined in the University's Nepotism Policy.

Such factors as the following are considered in this review: tenure density, enrollment trends, needs in critical areas of specialization, and results of program audit and review. In regards to application for promotion, following the review by the Dean, the University Committee is to review the applicant's professional qualifications in relation to the comparability of qualifications with previous and, if applicable, current applicants and a proven consistency with those at the same rank throughout the University.
